Early Readers Book Sets
Learning to read is fun and easy, as long as kids are able to get a peek at the page between their face mask and protective helmet.
Printed after 1985.

Geometric Shapes Super Set
Learning geometric shapes will come alive as your teacher carefully plucks each folding shape out of its plastic "shell" with tongs and attempts to unfold them without using their hands. Kids CAN fold the shapes back themselves while wearing 0.5 mm approved latex gloves!* Great Fun!

* Pursuant to Section 108(e)(1)(b) of the CPSIA, this product is NOT a toy. Of course!

Little Learners' Safari Animals
If only you could press the "on" button! Word is that these adorable little creatures actually talk and make animal sound effects when activated by touch. Your child will never know, but imagine the fun of sitting cross-legged on the floor and looking at these little guys for hours on end!

Explore the World (but not TOO closely) Globe

Explore locations of different far off lands around the world. At least the one hemisphere you can see without turning the globe! Decorative buttons on base add to the adventure as kids can look at all four different colors of buttons, while being careful not to actually touch them. Kids will enjoy viewing this spectacular globe from afar over and over!

Answer the call of the wild!
These authentically detailed sets introduce kids to a variety of species and, just like in real life, they can't touch them! Children do get to wear protective gear and rubber gloves when "playing" with these hand-painted jumbo animals, just like real zookeepers do!
